PRESIDENTS

JOHN DUNCAN

PLATFORM:

The students are undeniably the strength of Olivet. Recently however, Olivet's emphasis is not always towards the benefit of the students, but often the wants of the administration come before the needs of the students.

For example, last year one department of the Administration went 23% over its budget, and not one word was said. This year, because of budgetary problems many educational departments were forced to sell their syllabuses. Is Administration really more important than education at Olivet? Although money is not available to keep the library open for reasonable hours on Saturdays, the school could afford alarm systems in Hills and Chapman to protect the helpless men living on campus. The remote beauty of a $14,000 mural in the new prayer chapel does not offset the everyday ugliness of McClain parking lot, which already is developing new holes after last week's cheap and unsatisfactory repairs.

We need a grand reappraisal of priorities. With so many things wanting on our campus, our money is being spent on nice unnecessities. We as students and shareholders of ONC must demand that our money be spent, not for second priority, nor for skin deep improvements, but for those purposes which will be an honest asset for the present and future of Olivet and ourselves.

That is where student government steps in. ASG was meant to be our representative to the administration, as sort of a watchdog over our investment. However, over many years our student government has been diverted away from its main purpose. My main purpose ASG president will be not just to promote spiritual and social matters on campus, but also to make sure that we, the students, have honest input and understanding about how our money is used.

Olivet has many positive aspects which I hope are never changed. Still, many improvements should be made if Olivet is to remain a leader in Christian education. For our expanding tuition costs, we should expect more than increased rule enforcement and isolated loveliness. Problems such as quagmires for parking lots, a closed library, inadequate phone service and expensive syllabuses must be answered to.

"KEEP IT CLEAN GUYS."

TED WOZNIAK

PLATFORM:

The primary responsibility of the Student Body President is one of representation. At a Student council meeting, a meeting with the faculty or administration, or any other time that the president is involved with a group of people, his opinion will be interpreted as the opinion of the student body. The president must be sensitive to the feelings of the students and incorporate those feelings with his own to form opinions that will reflect the ideas of both he and the students. After this is done, the president must make those opinions known to the student council, the administration and the community and take action to further those ideas.

The president must also make sure that each and every student is kept informed as to what is being done in their behalf and keep the students interested in what the student government does. In order for the ASG to be effective, each individual student must feel that they are a vital part of it and have a right to have input into all areas. It is the responsibility of the president to make the ASG a part of, not an addition to, student life.

If elected, I will strive to find out what the students want and work with the other ASG and class officers to make the ideas of the student body a reality. Giving you a list of specific things that I would like to see done next year is not practical, because needs change, and what seems necessary now may become trivial by September. The only promise that I can make is one of commitment to the students of this campus and to the needs that they represent.

QUALIFICATIONS:

I feel that I am qualified for this office because, primarily, I have an interest in what student government is and what it can be. When one has an interest in something it is easy to put time and effort into it. Because I am concerned in the affairs of the student body, I will be at no loss for time to devote all the energies needed to do the job properly.

Since I served in social committee my freshman year I have a knowledge of that area of ASG. My position as sophomore class president this year along with my membership on Student Council gives me the experience in the areas of planning and organization which are so vital to the job of president.

VOTE

WAYNE LAMBERT

PLATFORM:

I believe that a complete job description for the office of associated student government president would be representative leadership. First of all the president represents the student body in many ways, but most importantly to the staff and administration of our college. The A.S.G. president must be aware of the students feelings and be able to represent those feelings to the administration. Secondly the A.S.G. president must be a leader. He must be able to organize and reorganize when the occasion arises. He also must be able to lead student government efficiently and work well with its leaders. To facilitate these general objectives I submit the following as my goals. Under the objective of representation.

1. The administration of Olivet operates with a committee structure. There are 19 standing committees formed to have an advisory function. 16 of the 19 committees have student membership. In fact, the student membership accounts for approximately 33% of the total membership of these student/faculty committees. I feel that as a student government we should utilize this student input device to the fullest. I would arrange for any student interested to sign up for the committee of his or her choice. The Student Council would then select members for each committee from those requesting committee assignments. In addition, I will propose that their would be attendance requirements set forth with a follow up to insure proper student representation.

2. I propose that there be a school-wide survey made four times a year to determine student opinions on pertinent issues under the jurisdiction of student government. The few surveys in the past have been successful and I feel that they would aid in proper representation.

3. The A.S.G. president must have good rapport with not only the student body but also with the administration. I anticipate working in cooperation with the administration while at the same time maintaining an autonomy that will enable me to openly represent the positions of the students.

4. If elected I will always hold to an open door policy. Not only will I be accessible but I will also strive to keep informed of student opinions at all times. I will do my best to represent every facet or group of the student body.

Under the objective of Leadership.

1. One of my foremost goals is to revitalize the club structure on our campus. As president I will do my best to bolster our existing clubs and reorganize the inactive organizations. I will support and push for an informative and positive club day. This day would allow the students to become better informed of club participation and it would allow for a time in which clubs could add to their membership. I am also proposing an inter-club council that would be made up of all club and class presidents. This councils main functions would be to coordinate each groups activities and to act as a resource group for student leaders. This would help student government as a whole to work together rather than to compete with each other.

2. I also feel that the associated students should sponsor a chapel series each semester. This series would include a program with special appeal to the students. In this aspect the student government will be of service to the student body.

3. If elected I will more fully utilize the sub-committees of the Student Council. These sub-committees will not only be a source of new business but will also carry much of the work load of the Student Council.

4. I will strive to improve our growing intermural program. To accomplish this I feel it is necessary to create the position of a student intermural director to work in cooperation with the athletic director of the college.

5. As president I will work closely with each student leader in every phase of student government. I pledge my support and readiness to help them in any way they might feel necessary. I feel a cohesive student leadership team is vital to an efficient and effective student government.

I feel that my experience in student government together with my desire to see student government at Olivet achieve its full potential qualifies me to serve as A.S.G. President. I would be honored to have your vote Tuesday April 11th.

STEVE JOHNSON

PLATFORM:

Olivet Nazarene College is a college which is on the move. Plans are being drawn up for greatly improved campus facilities including more tennis courts, a student prayer chapel, a new gym, a new fine arts building and many others. As I see it, the responsibility of Associated Student Government during this period is to keep up with an ever-expanding Olivet program. As President, my emphasis would be on two areas that I believe are mandatory as we look forward to this period of expansion. These two areas are "communications" and "program improvement."

The first area which I would emphasize is that of "Communication." Students have a right to be aware of the decisions made by the administration which will directly affect them, especially in the area of campus improvement. I regard this as one of the major responsibilities of Associated Student Government. Equally important is A.

S.G.'s responsibility to express student opinion to the faculty and administration. The following are some ways that this could be accomplished on both the Student and Administrative level:

I. Increased Student Communication.

A. Emphasize the idea of "communication" in Student Council. During the annual Fall Student Council Retreat a "Communication Seminar" where authorities would discuss such topics as "The Role of Communication in Student Government" and "Effective Communication" would be helpful.

B. Continue the report in the Glimmerglass by the President.

C. Place greater emphasis on the suggestion box in Ludwig Center.

D. Have a more indepth orientation for incoming Freshmen officers. They are often left in-the-dark concerning their specific duties and the procedures involved in each office.

II. Increased Administrative Communication.

A. Organize meetings to provide more interaction between the Executive Committee and the Resident Directors and Deans of Students. This would give student and administrative representatives a chance to share ideas, reevaluate and improve programs.

B. Encourage more cooperation between club and class officers and their faculty Sponsors.

C. Continue the use of student-Faculty Committees now in existence.

The second area which I would emphasize is that of "Program Improvement." With better facilities available on our campus there will be greater opportunity for student involvement. We must begin now to build and to improve our student programs so that when we do have some more modern facilities we may use them to their greatest potential. Listed below are some areas which I see as needing improvement along with some steps that might be taken to make these improvements.

I. Intermural Program

A. I would like to see Student Council work along with the director of intermurals in improving this program.

1. Increase the number of participants and improve organization within the presently existing program.

2. Add a volleyball program. Co-ed teams could be formed from each of the dorms. For example, a Williams-Chapman team, a Hills-McClain team, etc. Also a faculty and staff team could participate.

B. WKOC- Over the past year WKOC has made many improvements in its programming. I feel that A.S.G. should work along with WKOC in providing the best possible programming for our students. This might include a time from 9:00-11:00 P.M. where contemporary Christian music is played.

C. Increased Club Involvement.

1. Strive for greater emphasis and more excitement during Club Day.

2. Form a council of Club and Class Presidents.

D. Chapel- Have A.S.G. sponsor a guest lecturer who would hold a week of chapel services and seminars throughout the day.

E. Drama- To the best of my knowledge, with the absence of Prof. Debbie Salter the program has suffered greatly. I'm not sure what action can be taken to improve this very important area but it is one of great concern to me. I would want to do anything I could to improve the situation.

As president, I would strive to make myself available to any student with a gripe, question or idea. A.S.G. stands for Associated "STUDENT" Government and I feel that all students should feel free to participate in this very important aspect of college life. With this as my underlying philosophy combined with the emphasis on "Communication" and "Program Improvement". I feel we can continue "Building for a Better Tomorrow" on the campus of Olivet Nazarene College.

VICE PRESIDENTS

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Name: MARK GILROY

Class: Sophomore

Major: Religion

G.P.A. 3.2

Hometown: Beavercreek, Ohio

Candidate for: Vice President of Spiritual Life

PLATFORM:

As I see the office of Spiritual Life Vice President, it is one which must help to meet a two-fold area of need found in the spiritual development of each of us at Olivet; "how can I get myself together" and "how can I help others." I feel that the program as it stands at present must be maintained, for through such programs as Evangels, Gospel Crusaders, etc. there is opportunity for service which can greatly aid in the individual's spiritual well-being. But, in addition to this, during the next school year, I feel that the Spiritual Life program must become more a part of the "everyday life" which goes on at Olivet. Without lessening the emphasis on the outreach programs which exist at present, I would like to see a new emphasis placed on meeting the needs we face each day on campus; opportunities given for each of us to more fully live and cope right where we are. I see the campus and dorms and individuals as a mission-field in themselves which must be reached.

The direction I would like to head would be based on the discipleship principle and would at first involve only a few people working with a few people. The key to growth being our response to the opportunities afforded us. No program will work without a genuine desire on the participant's part for that program. And so I would like to make sure that there are available, programs which will meet each person's needs in his own personal spiritual journey. Examples of possible programs might be; a fellowship of ministerial students, Bible studies, prayer groups, and training sessions for students interested in sharing their faith more effectively. I feel that Spiritual Life can play a big part in what each of us become in life. Through maintaining the different areas which it already touches and by adding to these in order to touch other areas of need, our Spiritual Life Department can aid in helping each of us become better able to live a successful Christian life.

QUALIFICATIONS:

I have served two years in the Gospel Crusaders program of Spiritual Life as a preacher and captain of a team. Most importantly I am concerned about the needs each of us face and am willing to work hard towards giving the opportunities to meet them.

Name: RODNEY MILLER

Major: Religion

G.P.A. 2.696

Hometown: Stinesville, Indiana

Candidate for: Vice President of Spiritual Life

PLATFORM:

Two years ago Dan Wine urged us to get on the CAB to Success by Continuing, Adding and Building the Spiritual life program. If elected I would like to see the Spiritual life program continue with the organizations it currently has, but add new activities to involve more of the students such as short seminars that would enable one to live a more effective Christian life. Also, I want to see us reach out more into the educational zone so that more people will have a better understanding of what Spiritual Life is all about here at ONC.

If elected, I will keep an "open-door" policy- always eager to hear new ideas and help in any way I can.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

TREASURER

Name: LONNIE BULLOCK
Class: Junior
Major: Religion
G.P.A. 2.32
Hometown: Ft. Wayne, Indiana
Candidate for: Vice President of Social Affairs

PLATFORM:

The office of Vice-president of Social Affairs represents an exciting challenge. The office requires a person who is an efficient organizer, who is creative and, most important, one who is a leader and works easily with people. I believe I possess these qualities and with your help we can make next year a great year.

The following are some goals I have set for myself. These goals are realistic and with your help they are attainable. They include:

1. Keeping the traditional parties such as:

- a. Ollies Follies
- b. Halloween party
- c. Christmas party
- d. Valentines party
- e. the 50's party

2. Sponsoring more fan buses to both football and basketball games.

3. Sponsoring more off-campus activities such as:

- a. Roller Skating
- b. Ice Skating
- c. Trips to Chicago

4. Increase the number of activities by encouraging and aiding idle club and organizations in sponsoring activities.

5. Strive for greater student involvement.

6. Leave no surplus at the end of the year in the funds appropriated for Social Affairs.

7. Continuing the idea of the semester calenders to keep you informed.

8. Establishing a means of communication with the married and off-campus students.

I feel I am well qualified for this office and I have had the experience necessary to do a good job. However, to make next year a great year, I'll need you. I am very interested in finding out what activities you would like to have. I have already talked to Steve Johnson and I plan to talk to Mary Shoff about sending out a student interest survey to give you a chance to share your ideas. Through these surveys and by talking to you, I hope to find areas in which I can serve you, the student, better in the office of Vice-President of Social Affairs.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Freshman:

-worked closely with Stan Zurcher on the Christmas party.

-was involved in the planning and building of the Freshman class float.

Sophomore:

-served in Evangels.

Junior:

-worked closely with Steve Johnson in planning and working on social activities.

-in charge of the pep session in September.

-helped plan and work on "Ollies Follies".

-active role in planning and working on the Christmas party.

-worked on the haunted house.

-while serving as Gospel Crusaders director I have had the opportunity to plan retreats, fellowship times, and a banquet.

-an active member of the Spiritual life executive committee.

-in charge of the Spiritual life bonfire in September.

-working on the upcoming "Honeytree" concert.

Name: PERRY JAYNES
Class: Sophomore
Major: Business (Finance)
G.P.A. 3.375
Hometown: Hoopeston, Illinois
Candidate for: Treasurer

PLATFORM:

Perry has the desire to be your next treasurer during the 1978-79 year. Among the qualifications and experience that he has obtained, Perry wants to be your servant as ASG treasurer in handling the financial budgets and reports that are necessary in running the student government's activities smoothly. With each student paying an activity fee of $32.50 a semester, he believes that the students should be informed where their money is going. Since he has come to know how valuable detailed finance reports are, Perry would like to develop a method where upon he may be able to publish detailed financial statements for the student body to inspect. Perry would like to work on a system beyond the present one that would make the handling of money between the clubs easier and more accurate.

Perry will set definite office hours in order to be available for the organizations and clubs to meet with him. He will be ready around the clock in case emergencies occur that may need the ASG treasurer's assistance. Being available and setting time aside to do his job are two factors one should consider when running for this office. Perry has and he promises to be open to the opinions and suggestions that the student body will express.

QUALIFICATIONS:

High School: Freshman representative to Student Council, Sophomore class president, Junior and Senior class treasurer, National Honor Society member, 1 year of accounting, Participant in five different varsity athletics, Salutatorian of class, Sons of American revolution, and Who's Who.

College: 6 hours of accounting, Active in Viking Male Chorus, Member of the Varsity baseball team.

Out of School: Formerly employed as an assistant bookkeeper and salesman at a home town farm equipment store.

Name: PAUL CLARK
Class: Sophomore
Major: Botany
G.P.A. 3.3
Hometown: Oklahoma City, Oklahoma
Candidate for: Vice President of Social Affairs

PLATFORM:

1. Develop a balanced schedule of activities. Last year many students complained of too many activities too soon. I believe activities should fall into several weeks of the month and not just one weekend of one week.

2. Maintain traditional activities such as Ollies Follies and seasonal parties. Yet I want to upgrade these familiar events to be more appealing to non-attending students.

ance and involvement in these activities through better advertising and advance notice and encouraging idle groups to sponsor activities.

4. Introduce creative new ideas and institute several other types of activities which I helped to organize and carry out in my year at Bethany Nazarene College.

5. Sponsor more buses to away football and basketball games. This is one area which will require a great amount of attention. I would like to see a bus going to every feasible away football game major basketball games.

6. Use appropriated funds wisely in such a manner as not to run out of money before the end of the year, and not have to draw on the students pocket for activities which could be less expensive. In other words no attempts to make money from the students on activities other than group sponsored events will be made on my part.

7. Continue in areas of this office which have been successful previously. For example the students activities calender will obviously be continued.

This office of Vice-President of Social Affairs represents a challenge to me and also an opportunity to meet and work with new people. I believe it requires a person who can work well with other people, who knows where to draw the line, who is creative and who is a leader. I believe I do possess these qualities and will do my best to use them in office.

I believe this office requires change to keep from bogging down and I am not afraid to put these changes into effect. Vice President of Social Affairs is a serious office which requires maximum hours of time and endless efforts if it is to be run properly. I will devote such time and effort to make next year the best social year Olivet Nazarene College has ever had. Your support in helping me achieve this goal is greatly appreciated. Thank You.

I was treasurer of my Sophomore class and am presently an R.A. in Chapman Hall. I also am a member of the Spiritual Life executive council, being the director of Evangels.

SECRETARIES

Name: LYDIA SALZMAN
Class: Sophomore
Major: Business Administration
G.P.A. 3.1
Hometown: Peotone, Illinois
Candidate for: A.S.G. Secretary

PLATFORM:

There are three main tasks Lydia feels are most important as serving in the capacity of A.S.G. Secretary: the handling of correspondence, filing, and the proper procedure for relaying messages efficiently. Besides having the ability to perform these tasks well, she has a willingness to be an involved member on the committees which the Secretary will serve.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Lydia Salzman views the office of A.S.G. Secretary as a mixture of responsibilities, particularly one of initiative, decision-making, devotion, and most important, efficiency. In high school, Lydia completed two years of both shorthand and typing, and attended a Vocational Career Center in Secretarial training. She has worked at part-time clerical office jobs since she was sixteen and has worked at Riverside Hospital for two years as a part-time Medical Secretary where she works closely with the laboratory and operates an IBM office Systems 6 Information Processor. She also files, answers the phone, and does all the microfilming for the Medical Records Department during the summer.

In high school Lydia served on the Student Council, was a member of the National Honor Society, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer of her class, was a member of the Future Secretaries Association, and was President of Junior Secretaries. At Olivet she is the Business Club Secretary and is a member of the Concert Band.

Name: SHEILA GHOLSON

Major: Elementary Education
G.P.A. 2.4
Hometown: Hoopeston, Illinois
Candidate for: A.S.G. Secretary

PLATFORM:

The responsibilities of secretary of ASG are ones in which I feel qualified and could uphold. The secretary's responsibility of ASG include keeping accurate journals of all the proceedings of the student council while maintaining accurate filing and preserving of them accordingly. The secretary also should conduct all clerical and secretarial maintenance related to ASG.

My past experience and interests show sufficient clerical and secretarial involvement to meet these responsibilities. This office requires a good and efficient organizer with experience and has shared and participated in the school's activities.

QUALIFICATIONS:

During high school I served on the student council for four years, acting as secretary as a freshman and senior. High school involvement also included Business Manager of the yearbook, vice-president of Future Teachers of America and many music activities with the band and chorus. I held a job for three years during this time as a clerk in a drug store which involved bookkeeping and customer service.

In 1975, I represented my high school as an AFS exchange student in Brazil.

While at Olivet, I have served on the WRA council two years, presently serving as vice-president, having the opportunity to be involved with many activities. For one semester I did clerical work in the Alumni office and also worked as a secretary in the Counseling Center. I was a member of Treble Clef one year and am presently a Ludwig Center Hostess.

As an education major, I have had community involvement including the Circle K tutorial program and a volunteer worker at The Dr. King Education Center. I also assist with the music direction of a local church.

Efficiency, organization, accuracy, responsibility, dedication, and integrity at the highest level are all attributes which I will strive to maintain as ASG secretary.

AURORA

Name: BONNIE GREEN
Class: Junior
Major: Speech communications
G.P.A. 3.67
Candidate for: Aurora Editor

PLATFORM:

The purpose of the Aurora is to present a yearbook to the student body of that particular year, incorporating the history, growth and development of the school and the development of the students, academically, spiritually, and socially. In my campaign, I would like to stress three aspects I feel are necessary to help the Aurora meet these requirements, as well as improve upon them in quality. Firstly, I want to involve interested persons, both experienced and unexperienced. Yes, creativity is a valuable asset to yearbook production; however, it is by no means a requirement. A good yearbook needs willing individuals who are dedicated to the task and to working within the organization, whether creatively or technically.

Secondly, organization is a necessary aspect of any production work which involves different individuals working in various capacities. The section leaders of a yearbook are important people in this organizational aspect: they are chosen for their capabilities and their responsibility, both to the editor and their staffs as well. I want open, easy communication, which is important in maintaining organization; communication between staff members, section editors, and the editor, as well as with faculty and administration, who give valuable input to the book.

Thirdly, I feel commitment is a needed aspect; commitment to the purpose of the book, to the school and the administration (for it is a public relations piece of the college), and to the responsibilities of the job itself. I am very committed to this task, and I will have the time available to devote to all aspects necessary in production. I will make this a full-time job, for I do not feel it can be accomplished with the quality the students deserve if it is not.

QUALIFICATIONS:

College: Two years on the Aurora staff in the assistant editor capacity, two years as Gallery editor (Aurora), two years as copy editor (Aurora), one year as staff writer for Glimmerglass; one year as contributing writer, one and half years as advertising manager of the Glimmerglass, currently holding the position of editor of the 1978 Aurora.

PLATFORM:

As yearbook editor there are many responsibilities which must be met. The Aurora must reflect Olivet's values as well as the academic and social activities of the students for the 1978-79 school year.

In order to do this, the editor should be able to create a relevant theme for the book and then get students involved in developing the theme throughout the book.

The editor must be able to form a well-organized, dependable staff that is able to meet their deadlines. She must also be available to assist staff members as much as possible when problems arise.

As editor I would be especially concerned that the Aurora be of the highest quality, yet remain within the allowed budget.

If elected as yearbook editor I plan to meet these responsibilities in several ways. I would meet with the staff and organize them according to their qualifications and interests.

I would establish regular office hours where I would be available to discuss any aspect of the Aurora with both staff members and students. Regular meetings would be held to keep the staff aware of how the yearbook is progressing.

In order to keep a high quality in the book, I propose to take bids from publishers and photographers to determine the best quality available with the given budget.

QUALIFICATIONS:

I am confident that my prior yearbook experience has prepared me to carry out these responsibilities.

I have had five years of yearbook experience, three years in high school and two years in college.

In high school I was student advisor to the editor and my junior year I was the first junior to ever become yearbook editor. I also was responsible for developing the yearbook theme and I designed the yearbook cover during my senior year. Other duties I performed were copywriting, obtaining advertising, and selling the yearbook.

While in college I have been editor of the student life section. I have also helped with the layout, designed advertisements, and helped organize various staff members.

GLIMMERGLASS

Name: DANIEL BEHR
Class: 1st Semester Junior
Major: Psychology
G.P.A. 3.3
Hometown: Dayton, Ohio
Candidate for: GLIMMERGLASS Editor

QUALIFICATIONS:

High School:

1. Writer for Oakwood High School newspaper for one year.
2. Staff member of school creative arts magazine for two years; one year on production staff, and one year as editorial assistant.

3. One year as editor of local church youth newspaper.

4. Member of National Honor Society for two years.

5. Treasurer of church NYI for one year.

6. Vice President of church NYI for one year.

7. High school English major.

8. A published author: The short story, "Do You Like Carrots?" was published in "Menagerie", a literary magazine, Spring, 1975 issue.

College:

1. Member of the Glimmerglass staff for two years: two semesters as staff member, writer and layout designer, and two semesters as Feature Editor.

2. Acting Vice President of the Drama Club.

3. Second year member of the Viking Male Chorus.

4. Editor of the Academics section of the 1978 Aurora.

PLATFORM:

I. Purpose of the Glimmerglass:

A. To inform the students in an interesting way.

B. To report issues and matters of importance from a Christian, contemporary viewpoint.

II. Duties and responsibilities I will fulfill as Editor:

A. Full time supervision of all facets of production. The duties of the Editor cannot be fulfilled the day or two before the paper is printed, it is a full time job!

B. The assignment and editing of material.

C. Designation of editorial policy.

D. To write editorials consistently for every issue.

E. Designation of material to be printed.

F. Operation of the paper on a comprehensive budget.

G. To conduct staff meetings.

III. Goals I have set for myself as Editor:

A. To produce a quality student publication.

B. To creatively design the paper to interest you, the student, so that you will look forward to the next issue.

IV. I have divided my plans for achieving these goals in to two areas of emphasis.

A. STAFF:

1. Large editorial staff to increase student involvement and aid in smooth production.

2. Conduct regular staff meetings to work, organize, discuss policy, and keep communications open.

3. Improve office working conditions to make production easier.

4. Organization of writing and production staff.

B. PRODUCTION:

1. Consistent, bi-weekly publication.

2. Distribution of Glimmerglass after chapel. Every student pays for the paper, and has the right to get one.

3. A news magazine writing format; in depth reporting that is possible in a bi-weekly publication.

4. Publish a wide variety of subject matter to meet the many interests of Olivet students.

5. I will use investigative reporting, digging for the areas of a story that have to be researched and studied in order to be reported properly.

6. Expansion of circulation to include faculty and the advertising community.

Time and availability have become an important issue in ASG campaigns. In response to this, I would like to point out that I am a semester ahead and plan to spend a full four years at Olivet. This will allow me to take a very light load next year. I will have no outside employment to interfere with my editorial duties. I will make the job of Glimmerglass editor a full time position. I will use creativity and variety to spark interest and make the Glimmerglass a paper you will look forward to!

PLATFORM

As current editor I know exactly what the responsibilities of the job are. 1. Generally, it is a supervisory position. The staff is the key to a good newspaper. Therefore, my promise is to acquire a dedicated and qualified staff of reporters. My job will be to use each person in the area of their fullest potential.

2. The editor must be able to proofread and edit newspaper copy correctly.

3. Creativity is a must - every article originates with the editor and layout and design is under his supervision.

4. An editor must be an organizer-deadlines have to be met, consequently, much of the paper's work is done before the stories are even assigned.

5. Because the editor is an officer of Associated Student Government these duties should not be overlooked. This office provides another democratic voice for student input in student government. Qualities for this job must include an awareness of campus issues, innovative ideas for change, and a well roundedness for free communication between all types of students.

6. Finally, it is a serious responsibility of the editor to maintain the standards of this institution: academically, morally, and spiritually. The newspaper must leave posterity with a lasting record of Olivet life of which we can be proud.

QUALIFICATIONS:

I have already proved my ability to function as editor of the Glimmerglass. Since I assumed responsibility of this position during February I have increased the staff significantly and have established regular deadlines. (It is a bi-monthly publication.) Most importantly, I have tried to improve the paper's quality by minimizing such things as typographical errors and poor syntax. Articles have been selected on the basis of interest, relevance, and fair representation for the various groups on campus. The quantity of "Olivet news" has been widened.

The paper is not perfect, nor will it begin to bear the mark of excellent journalism until the Glimmerglass is a tool of the Communication major. However, I would like to see some additional changes in next year's paper:

1. The Glimmerglass office is sorely in need of renovation. Additional equipment must be purchased in order to prepare for the coming major.

2. Circulation can be improved. My dream has been to circulate the paper as the Tiger Talk is now circulated.

3. Additional people need to be trained in the areas of layout and graphics.

4. The assembly-line idea can be incorporated by the staff to insure greater efficiency and more productivity in publishing.

I have also served Olivet in the following areas as well:

1. English assistant
2. Vice-President of Sigma Tau Delta
3. Past staff member of Aurora
5. Past member of Treble Clef choir

I see the Glimmerglass editorship as a preparation for future prospects in the field of journalism. It is this motivation that keeps me dedicated to the full-time responsibilities of the office.
